MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Congratulations and welcome to Sonoma State University Commencement.

What a day! Here we are, on this beautiful campus, with so much history and so many memories running like a river through the land beneath our feet. We are preparing to celebrate the success of our students, who have so enlivened and enriched our learning community with their talent and enthusiasm. Commencement represents one of the most momentous experiences in a lifetime – an unmitigated recognition of accomplishment, optimism, and potential.

So much in education is about the future: growing, building, developing, preparing, training. We invest in what we hope will be a better, more enlightened future. We steadfastly believe in the wisdom that true knowledge brings understanding and, over time, positive social change. But today we get to be fully in the present, acknowledging that at this very moment, we are all at our best, and sharing with each other the joys of success, past, present, and future.

To all of you who are graduating, today is the culmination of every late night, every sacrifice, every obstacle and challenge, every bit of effort you had to lend to your studies. You are strong, courageous, and capable leaders. To each and every one of you who has served as family support, teacher, coach, mentor, friend, and morale booster, thank you for your deep investment in the education and accomplishments of our students. And to all of you who have helped make this day – and every day at Sonoma State – special and fulfilling, I hope you feel my appreciation for all of the work you do, much of it unseen, to sustain our values and support our mission.

Sonoma State is a unique and precious community. The Class of 2023 is unique and precious, and on behalf of the University, I assure you that you will always belong here, always have a place to call your educational ‘home.’ We stand behind you, sending our Seawolf wishes, cheering you on and rooting for your happiness and achievements. Life is unpredictable, and fortunes changeable, but my hope is that you can always recognize and call upon your strength and abilities as the leaders you are. You can change the world. You will change the world. You have already made Sonoma State a better community, and today we celebrate your success, past, present, and future.

Best wishes for the future,

Ming-Tung “Mike” Lee, Ph.D.
President

MESSAGE FROM THE CHANCELLOR

Dear Class of 2023:

I offer you my most enthusiastic and heartfelt congratulations on achieving this consequential milestone on the journey of a lifetime.

Today, we celebrate you – and all the hard work, perseverance and scholarship that brought you here. You will undoubtedly look back on this occasion for many years to come, filled with a well-earned sense of pride in your accomplishments – and maybe even a sense of relief for attaining a goal that, at times, might have felt more than a little daunting.

As numerous forces upended our world, you held firmly onto your dreams and persisted in your studies through challenges none of us could have foreseen or imagined. You have by necessity developed and demonstrated skills – far beyond your academic work – that will ensure your continued success: resilience, flexibility, resourcefulness, patience and tenacity. Your resolve shines brightly as a symbol of hope and optimism. It is admirable. And it is inspiring.

Of course, you did not make this journey alone. We also recognize the faculty who deepened your knowledge and enabled you to see the world from new perspectives. We acknowledge the counselors, tutors, advisors, librarians, coaches and support staff who championed you at every turn. And we appreciate the family, friends and loved ones who encouraged you, uplifted you and supported you along the way. Please remember to thank these important people and let them know how much their support means.

This celebration marks a new beginning for you – a time to commence a new life, filled with opportunities and prospects made possible by your degree from the California State University.

With this rite of passage we call “commencement,” you will join a dynamic, global network of more than 4 million CSU alumni. They are a remarkable force for good, and I am certain your addition to their ranks will multiply their contributions to our communities, to our state and to the world. I ask that – in the Cal State spirit – you use the knowledge, skills and personal qualities you have developed to work for justice, seek opportunities to foster equity and always uplift and empower others. Stay connected to your campus and look for ways to give back. And whenever possible, support future generations who aspire to follow in your footsteps.

On behalf of the entire California State University, again, congratulations.

Sincerely,

Jolene Koester, Ph.D.
Interim Chancellor

HONORARY DOCTORATE

MRS. ANNE AND MR. DANTE "DAN" BENEDETTI

Honorary Doctor of Letters

Anne and Dan Benedetti, who are being jointly recognized as a couple, have deep roots with the Sonoma State campus.

"This is quite an incredible honor. I feel very pleased, and am so very humbled and grateful," said Mrs. Benedetti, who graduated from Sonoma State in 1993 with a B.A. in music. "I've had a relationship with the university for quite a few years in different capacities – working on the Green Music Center and also when I went back to school late in life," she said, fondly recalling her days "carpooling when my youngest child had just started kindergarten, and being a mom and a student and such."

In 2010, Mrs. Benedetti earned the Distinguished Alumni Award for her years of championing arts and education in the Sonoma County community. She played an instrumental role in supporting the strategic planning for the Green Music Center, where she served as a board member, including a term as GMC board chair. She also served as a community member on the strategic planning committee for the university.

In addition to Mrs. Benedetti's longstanding support for Sonoma State, she is also an Emeritus Board Member for the Santa Rosa Symphony, having served with the arts organization for 12 years, including a term as board president.

Born and raised in Petaluma, Dan Benedetti pitched for the Sonoma State baseball team in the early 1970s under legendary coach Bill Trumbo. Mr. Benedetti studied by day while working the graveyard shift at the Petaluma Cooperative Creamery that has since grown into the iconic Clover Sonoma. While part owner of Clover, he ensured that the company reinvested a percentage of the company's profits back into the community through what is now called the Clover Cares program.

Among Mr. Benedetti's many humanities-rooted community engagement roles over the years, he has served as an advisory board member for both the Santa Rosa Junior College and Sonoma State University, strategizing on issues pertaining to the campus community at the behest of the respective school presidents. He has also served as a board member for Community Foundation Sonoma County, Hanna Boys Center, and the Culinary Institute of America. He is also a past board president for what is now United Way of the Wine Country and a founding member of an ad hoc committee for what is now Sonoma County Food Bank.

"We are so very humbled and honored to be recognized by Sonoma State for Anne's contributions to the arts and my contributions to the humanities," said Mr. Benedetti. "It's been a long walk from the baseball diamond to where we find ourselves now. And after 52 years of marriage, we're looking forward to sharing this public stage together in accepting these honorary degrees as a couple and with the true doctors of academia."

HONORARY DOCTORATE

MR. HERMAN J. HERNANDEZ

Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters

Born and raised in San Francisco's Mission District, Herman J. Hernandez has been a resident of Guerneville since 1970. With an upbringing of community integrity instilled by his immigrant parents, Mr. Hernandez has become one of the most visible and influential social justice leaders in Sonoma County. In addition to a successful career as a values-conscious real estate broker, he founded Los Cien – the largest Latino advocacy group in the North Bay. Since its founding in 2008, Los Cien has created and advanced opportunities for the Latino community in Sonoma County through education, and civic engagement with Latinx purpose, pride, and power.

"I was street-taught. I learned in the street and wasn't academically inclined to higher education. So, when President Mike Lee called to let me know about the honorary degree, I was truly speechless. I realized, this is going to be the closest I'd ever get to a college experience," said Hernandez.

After graduating from Sacred Heart High School in 1970, a school counselor took a look at Mr. Hernandez's below-average grades and encouraged him to look forward to a future being drafted into the Vietnam War. He narrowly escaped that route and never took for granted a need to create his own opportunities.

With Sonoma State designated as a Hispanic Serving Institution, Mr. Hernandez views the university as a pillar of opportunity for the Latino community that was out of reach for his generation. He hopes to see more generations of Latino students graduate from the local university and stay within our own community.

"Everything I do is for the benefit of my community," he said. "My reward has always been looking at the successes of what we're able to accomplish together as a community. To receive this honorary degree from Sonoma State... I have to say, I'm truly humbled."

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

Sonoma State University is one of the 23 campuses of the California State University and enrolls 6,500 students. It ranks nationally in the top tier of Western public liberal arts colleges and has been named as one of the most beautiful campuses in the country.

SSU provides students with a balanced program of liberal arts and sciences and career preparation with selected professional programs in business, nursing and engineering science. Sonoma State has established itself as an educational and cultural resource for residents in the surrounding communities.

The University first opened to 250 students in 1961 as Sonoma State College in leased buildings in Rohnert Park. The move to its permanent 269-acre site took place in 1966 upon completion of Stevenson and Darwin Halls.

In 1969, the academic master plan underwent a major revision. The new “cluster school” concept, coupled with a heightened appreciation for the rural environment, influenced the physical master plan. First to exemplify this new plan was Zinfandel Village, the residential facility that opened in 1972. Since then five additional villages have rounded out campus housing. In 1975 a classroom building, Nichols Hall, was built and named in honor of Sonoma’s founding president Ambrose R. Nichols.

The Student Union was built in 1976 and faced the central quad. It is now International Hall and houses international and study abroad programs.

The Art Building, a child care center and a computer center opened in 1977.

In 1978, university status was officially extended to Sonoma State. The community provided funds for the construction of a pool in 1982. Construction of the 475-seat Evert B. Person Theatre was completed in 1989. In June 2000, the Jean and Charles Schulz Information Center was completed to accommodate the expanded needs of the library and computing services as well as new information technologies.

The year 2005 brought a student-funded recreation center and the renovation of Darwin Hall, the science building, providing new laboratories and classrooms to support the needs of a 21st-century science curriculum. The Student Center, across from the Campus Recreation Center, opened in 2013 and has become the focal point for events, dining and student services.

With the opening of Tuscany Village, the last residential village, the University has a student-housed community of 3,100. Additionally, the Donald and Maureen Green Music Center and its acoustically impressive Joan and Sanford I. Weill Hall and Schroeder Hall bring artists from around the globe to entertain audiences and educate and enlighten students.

COMMENCEMENT TRADITIONS

Participation in today's Commencement activities links the graduate with ancient scholastic tradition. It is the students' time to be recognized officially, by public proclamation, that they have achieved rank with the company of scholars that has framed civilization over the centuries and throughout the world.

Commencement rituals originated in Europe in the Middle Ages when the church was the center of learning. The earliest colleges assumed some of the customs and styles of monasteries. For example, the scholar's gown is an adaptation of the robe of the friar or priest, the hood is from the monk's cowl, and the mortarboard cap came from the skullcap. Early American colleges followed many of these customs, some of which continue today as traditions in America.

THE MACE

Symbolic since the Middle Ages of the community of scholars, the mace is carried in academic processions at colleges and universities.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The gown is distinctive for each of the three degree levels. The bachelor's gown is a yoked, closed-front garment with long, pointed sleeves. The master's gown can be worn open or closed and has long, oblong sleeves, usually closed but slit below the shoulders. The doctoral gown is distinguished by full, bell-shaped sleeves crossed with three velvet bars and by velvet panels from neck to ankle; it is generally black.

The mortarboard cap, in black, is the most accepted style of headdress in colleges and universities throughout the United States. The tassel, fastened to the center of the cap, indicates whether the degree has been conferred. If the wearer has graduated, the tassel is worn on the left; if not, it is worn on the right. The tassel on the doctoral cap may be of gold thread.

The hood, draped over the wearer's shoulders and down the back, indicates the highest degree earned. The bachelor's hood is seldom used. The doctoral hood differs from the bachelor's and master's in that it is longer and has flat, wide panels on either side. The color and design of the silk lining of the hood indicate the college or university conferring the degree. The hood worn by SSU master's degree candidates is lined in dark blue and light blue, the Sonoma State University colors. The master's hood is trimmed in gold velvet for the master of science and white velvet for the master of arts. The color of the velvet border on the hood indicates the field of study in which a candidate has earned a degree. Among faculty, the most common degree is the doctor of philosophy, indicated by dark blue.

UNIVERSITY SEAL

The seal of the University appears on the mace and the medallion, and on diplomas and official documents. The soaring dove symbolizes peace or freedom of the spirit; the flaming torch represents the flame of learning; and the tree suggests the beauty and strength of the redwood, which gives this region its name, the Redwood Empire. The Latin words "lux mentis lux orbis" mean "light of the mind, light of the world."

UNIVERSITY/ACADEMIC SCHOOL BANNERS

The University's heraldic banner, carried in the procession, displays the University's colors: dark blue and light blue. The banners for the five academic schools incorporate colors representing each school's disciplines and the colors traditionally used on the regalia hoods of the various disciplines.

AUDIENCE NOTES

DIPLOMA PHOTOGRAPHS

Graduates' names will be read during the presentation of diplomas. A photograph of each graduate will be taken by GradImages, the official Commencement photographer, as the diploma is presented. Graduates will receive an email proof of images within 48 hours of the ceremony.

EMERGENCIES

Emergency medical technicians and staff from the Student Health Center and Police Services are on duty to provide aid in the event of an emergency. They can be reached at 707.664.4444 or 911 from any phone. An ambulance is located at the south end of the Weill Lawn and Terrace. See map on page 72.

LOST AND FOUND

Lost and found items may be given to any usher or to the Coat Check located on the first floor of Weill Hall.

PHOTOGRAPHY BY GUESTS

Guests wishing to take photographs during the ceremonies are invited to do so. However, please do not block the view of others, take photos in aisles or enter restricted areas.

RECESSIONAL

Audience members must remain at their seats until all graduates have left Weill Hall. At the conclusion of the recessional, graduates will be free to visit with family and friends.

RESTROOMS

Restrooms are located in Weill Hall and at the back of the Weill Lawn and Terrace. See map on page 72.

SMOKING

Sonoma State University is a smoke-free campus, including the parking lots. Use of tobacco and e-cigarette products as well as all forms of cannabis are prohibited.

CANDIDATES FOR GRADUATION AND ACADEMIC HONORS

Students eligible to participate in the 2023 Commencement exercises are December 2022 graduates and May 2023 and August 2023 candidates for bachelor's and master's degrees. The list of graduates and candidates in this Commencement program is based on academic records at the time the program was completed and does not constitute an official listing. The appropriate diplomas will be issued to candidates who successfully complete all requirements.

HONORS
